

2008 was a very good year for River Oaks Farm and owner/rider Gigha Steinman of Astor, Florida. The stallions Lexington and G Walkabout had a great year in competition. Lexington finished the year in the Top 20 for USDF Dressage Horse of the Year, and was a USDF All-Breeds Champion (FSA). G Walkabout was also a USDF All-Breeds Champion (RPSI). Both stallions have been virtually undefeated at Training and First Levels, scoring consistently in the 70s. Lexington was also approved for breeding (Elite Book) by the Friesian Sporthorse Association, making him one of the only approved stallions in the U.S. For the latest information, please visit www.RiverOaksFarm.net.

Crestline Farm in Kent, Washington, congratulates their Dutch Warmblood stallion Palladio on winning the $10,000 International Hunter Derby, the $3,500 Bunny Coffin Memorial Hunter Classic, and Best Overall Hunter at the Evergreen Classic Show. Palladio finished the season with championships, reserves and top ribbons in the Regular Working Hunters, Regular Conformation Hunters, and Open Three-Six Hunters. Additionally, Palladio and his ammy owner stepped back into the show ring at the October Classic and won the Pre-Adult Hunter division and the Pre-Adult Equitation Finals. Palladio's daughters and sons had a super year, too, with many Premium and Gold Premium awards at their inspections. In the show ring, Poetic CF was Reserve
